

FACTS WHAT DOES OLD MISSION BANK DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and Income
- Payment history and Transaction history
- Credit history and Account balances

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Old Mission Bank chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

| Reasons we can share your personal information | Does Old Mission Bank share? | Can you limit this sharing? |

Who we are

Who is providing this notice? Old Mission Bank

What we do

How does Old Mission Bank protect my personal information? To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does Old Mission Bank collect my personal information? We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account or Apply for financing
- Show your driver's license or Give us your contact information
- Provide your mortgage information

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing? Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
